

Dr. Hariharan did his undergraduate training at K.A.P. Vishwanatham Government Medical College, Trichy. He did his postgraduate training in paediatrics at Kilpauk Medical College, Chennai. He thereafter did his DM Cardiology from Madras Medical College, Chennai followed by a one-year fellowship course in Cardiac Pacing and Electrophysiology from Christian Medical College, Vellore. He thereafter joined as faculty in the Cardiac Electrophysiology and Pacing Unit.

During his academic career, Dr. Hariharan has received several awards which included the prestigious Alathoor Narendra Memorial Endowment Gold medal for being the best Cardiology resident in Tamil Nadu Dr. MGR Medical University. He also won the Shri.B. Nagi Reddi Memorial Gold Medal in Cardiology. He also won the first prize at the MMM Arrhythmia Heart Failure Academy ElectroCardiology course in 2018 and 2019.

Dr. Hari brings with him sound subject knowledge and great patient care. He explains the risks and benefits of every procedure to his patients thoroughly with great attention to detail. His concern for patients is unparalleled. His area of interest is the management of paediatric arrhythmias.